savers_uvas No more 14 injections after a dog bite!

This myth needs to be eradicated completely now. You can prevent rabies by Pre-exposure vaccination. The pre-exposure vaccination (PrEP) series consists of three injections (shots) of a killed rabies virus vaccine. The first two doses are given one week apart (day 0 and 7). The third savers_uvas Rabies is one of the most common and deadliest zoonotic diseases present worldwide, a dire need of its public awareness and eradication is needed to overcome this battle. SAVERS has always tried to do its best for the animals and veterinary community to work in accord and live in a peaceful and harmonized atmosphere.

This year on World Rabies Day SAVERS has decided to arrange some activities for the young vet students to learn how to use their potential, in order to bridge the public with this serious issue and play their role in it. SAVERS has arranged tremendous activities every year on the account of World
